

Early Years Language Curriculum 2020-21

Vatika	Praveshika
ORAL
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Spoken words connects us with others. • People ask questions to learn from others. • The sounds of language are a symbolic way of representing ideas and objects. • People communicate using different languages. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Spoken words connect us with others. • People learn and speak to share thoughts’ and feelings • People ask questions to learn from others. • People communicate using different Language • Everyone has right to speak and be listened to
VISUAL
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Visual language is all around us. • The pictures, images and symbols in our environment have meaning. • Viewing and talking about the images others have created helps us to understand and create our own presentations. • We can enjoy and learn from visual language. • Visual texts can immediately gain our attention. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Visual language is all around us. • We can enjoy and learn from visual language. • The pictures, images, and symbols in our environment have meaning. • People use static and moving images to communicate ideas and information. • Viewing and talking about the images others have created help us to understand and create our own presentation. • Visual text s can immediately gain attention.

WRITTEN

- Printed information can tell about the real world.
- Stories can tell about imagined worlds.
- The words we see and hear enable us to create pictures in our minds.
- People read for pleasure.
- Talking about our stories and pictures helps other people to understand and enjoy them.

- Illustrations convey meaning.
- People read for pleasure
- Printed information can tell about real world.
- Written language works differently from spoken language.
- The words we see and hear enable us to create pictures in our minds.
- Stories can tell about imagined worlds.
- The sounds of spoken language can be represented visually.
- Consistent ways of recording words or ideas enable members of language community to communicate.