Warli art is indigenous art form of the Warli tribe. The Warlis are tribe, living in mountainous as well as coastal areas of Indian states – Maharashtra & Gujarat. Warli Paintings usually depict social life. They have their own animistic beliefs, life, customs and traditions; as a result of acculturation they have adopted many Hindu beliefs. Colours of the Warli painting background are Henna, indigo, ochre, black, earthy mud, brick red and white made of rice paste to paint, and occasionally yellow and red dots accompany white colour. They use a bamboo stick chewed at one end to make it as flexible as paintbrush.

These paintings are used to decorate the walls of the houses. Triangles, circle and rectangle are its main components.
